

Consistent and correct use of condoms prevent infection.

In some hospitals we have special services for pregnant women. This involves counseling, blood tests and provision drugs to HIV +Ve mothers. This will reduce the risk of infection to the baby.

Awareness among adolescent boys and girls about healthy family life including sex education is important.

Adolescents should have access to information as AIDS transmission and prevention. Adolescent girls are vulnerable.

Blood testing facilities are available at most district hospitals. Here blood test for HIV/AIDS is done along with counseling services.

Think about this:

- Prevention is better than cure. HIV and AIDS is an example.
- Should HIV test be done before every marriage?
- People in city only indulge in having sex with multiple partners
